Meeting your academic conditions

If there are academic conditions detailed in your conditional offer letter, these are the documents that we still need to receive from you in their original form. These could be any of the following documents:

Academic documents

You will see on your offer letter if we have requested an academic qualification that you need to send to us before you are able to join your research degree programme. For some students you will still need to complete this qualification, and we ask that as soon as you receive the results, you send these to us as quickly as possible but no later than the published deadline for meeting the conditions for your starting date, go to www.uclan.ac.uk/research/study/how_to_apply.php

For other students it may be that you have failed to enclose the transcripts (only sending the certificate) so this is why we are asking you to supply them.

English Language Qualification

As with academic documents, it could be that you have not yet taken your English language test, so we ask that as soon as you have done so, you send the result to us as quickly as possible. To meet this condition you can either take a recognised English test (http://www.uclan.ac.uk/schools/language-global-studies/language_academy/language_testing.php) or attend one of our Pre-session English language programmes. For further information please go to: http://www.uclan.ac.uk/courses/presessional_english_academic_purpose.php

For other students it may be that you have not enclosed this evidence and we would therefore ask that you send it to us as soon as possible.

Please ensure you check our website for those English language qualifications that are accepted by the University. For further information please see: www.uclan.ac.uk/international/find_your_country.php

Academic References

We require two satisfactory academic references for students entering postgraduate research degrees.

It is your responsibility to ensure that the Admissions Team in the Research Student Registry receive these references. We do not request references on your behalf.

Supplying these documents to UCLan

If you have applied through one of our agents overseas you should give these documents to your agent as soon as you have them, and your agent will send the documents to the Research Student Registry.

Alternatively, you can send scanned colour copies of the documents to our in-country offices (in China and India) or by email to: researchadmissions@uclan.ac.uk

Whichever method you use, please ensure that you clearly state your University ID No. which appears on your offer letter. This allows us to match your documents to your original application without delay.

For some postgraduate students an ATAS certificate is mandatory for studying in certain disciplines including science, engineering and technology. A detailed list of the subject areas can be found at:

<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/academic-technology-approval-scheme>

In addition to any conditions listed in the offer letter the following information forms part of the terms and conditions of your offer for a place on a research degree programme at the University.

http://www.uclan.ac.uk/study_here/student-contract.php

Unconditional Offers

The term 'unconditional offer' is part of the national admissions nomenclature, and relates to the academic conditions of the offer. All other conditions as detailed in this letter, or within the University Regulations also apply.

If this offer is 'unconditional' it has been made on the basis of the academic qualifications you have presented to the University either on the basis of the information you provided to the University via application form, the telephone or the worldwide web. You must provide documentary evidence of the qualifications you have indicated to us and on which the decision to offer a place has been based. The University reserves the right to verify the qualifications with the awarding Institution. This offer and the contract you will enter into by accepting it and membership of the University remain subject to the requirement that you hold the qualifications and that the University receives documentary evidence of them. If you fail to meet this requirement within 15 days of your start date, the offer may be withdrawn and your contract with, and membership of, the University may be terminated.

Attendance

Full-time students are expected to regularly attend the Preston campus. You need to live within a reasonable distance of the Preston campus to ensure appropriate engagement with your programme of study. Please note that your engagement will be monitored throughout your programme.

You will be responsible for any costs incurred in travelling to the University, including compulsory events such as induction, supervision and training. All students are required to attend the University Induction Day for Research Students and any School induction. Students on a Tier 4 visa will need to comply with the University's Tier 4 attendance monitoring requirements.

English Language Requirements

Applicants are required to demonstrate their English language competence at the level required for entry to the programme. The University reserves the right to ask students undertake an English language test if deemed necessary by the University. It is the University's right to insist that students who demonstrate weaknesses in their English language skills undertake additional English language training that the University will provide and achieve the required standard within 3 months.

University Policies

In accepting an offer of a place at this University, you are agreeing to comply with the provisions of all the University's Regulations, Rules, and Codes of Practice for Research Students and Code of Conduct for Research. The Student Guide to Regulations is a reference guide to the above which is available on the University's Web Page for your information
http://www.uclan.ac.uk/study_here/student-contract.php

The University also has an established complaints procedure which can be found at the above link.

Progression

You should note carefully that continuation on the programme of study is subject to:

- successful completion of Research Programme Approval within the regulatory timescales (see Academic Regulations);
- satisfactory progress on the research programme during each academic year;
- satisfactory outcome of the Assessment of Progress each year;
- transfer from MPhil to PhD within the regulatory timescales (see Academic Regulations) if applicable;
- satisfactory completion of all training requirements.

If your progression is not satisfactory after an opportunity to remedy any deficiencies in your progression has been given your studies may be terminated by the University.

The Academic Regulations can be found at together with the Assessment Handbook which also includes the Appeal Procedures for research Students http://www.uclan.ac.uk/study_here/studentcontract.php

Research Governance

All research has to be undertaken in accordance with the University Code of Conduct for Research. Please note carefully the University's guidelines on ethics for research.

Graduate Research Skills Training

The University is fully committed to the training and development of its research students. All PhD (via MPhil) and Masters students, (both full and part-time and including off campus students) are required to undertake mandatory research skills training unless they qualify for and agree an exemption which their supervisor confirms part or all exemption from the training. Progression through the research degree is contingent on undertaking the training (unless exemptions are granted) and completion times are as follows

PhD (via MPhil)	Full Time	Normally in the first quarter and no later than the end of the first year of study
	Part Time	Normally in the first year, and no later than end of the second year of study
Masters (by Research)	Full Time	Normally in the first quarter and no later than the end of the first year
	Part Time	Normally in the first half of year one of study and no later than the end of the second year

Support for Students with Disabilities or Learning Difficulties

If you think that you are likely to require any support because of a disability and/or learning difficulty while you are studying at UCLan, you must contact the Disability Advisory Team on 01772 892593 (telephone/textphone). The offer of a place is conditional on such notification and on the University's evaluation of your needs and whether the necessary support can be provided. All requests for support will be considered in line with the criteria for 'reasonable adjustments' as outlined in the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act. There may be delays experienced by those who contact the Disability Advisory Team late in the application process, dependent on the volume of prior applications and because the resources the University has available to it are necessarily limited.

Accommodation Policy

The Student Accommodation Service guarantees to help all new, full-time students find a suitable place to stay, either in University owned or University approved accommodation.

Working in the UK

The University strongly recommends that you do not work more than one day per week or undertake more than 6 'contact' hours teaching or demonstrating. Most International Students will be given a passport stamp or visa sticker that allows them to work part-time during term-time (up to 20 hours a week) and full-time during the vacations. However, for full-time students 20 hours of work in addition to 36 hours of research per week would undoubtedly detract from your studies and delay your expected completion date. Remember you are required to pay tuition fees until you submit your thesis.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you comply with the terms of your visa.

If you are unsure about the terms of your visa the International Compliance Team at UCLan may be able to assist you further, please contact them by email pbshelp@uclan.ac.uk. If you are found to be working over the permitted number of hours (20) the University is required to report you to the Home Office if you are on a Tier 4 visa.

Proper Law and Jurisdiction

In accepting an offer of a place at this University, you are agreeing with the University:

- (a) that as regards validity, construction and performance the resulting contract between the University and you shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the law of England and Wales; and
- (b) to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales as regards any claim or matter arising under such contract.

Right to Cancel and Duration of Contract - Distance Selling Regulations

You are reminded of your right to cancel the contract (where appropriate) under the above regulations within (14) fourteen working days of formally accepting the offer.

Data Protection

If you are collecting data relating to individuals for your research project you should ensure that such data is held in accordance with the UK Data Protection Act 1998.

The information provided will be used by the University for the administration of your application, academic record and student and welfare services. It will also be used for research and the compilation of statistics. The University may also supply this information to outside organisations including the Police, the Home Office, Local Authorities, the Department of Works and Pensions and its agencies, Examination Boards or Awarding Bodies to prevent or detect fraud.

You agree that the University may hold and use the information which you supply to it, for the purposes to which this relates. Unless you tell us that you object you also agree that the University may retain such information for marketing purposes and may contact you by post, telephone, e-mail and short messaging service with details of and relating to courses and of its other products and services. If you do not want to receive this information please write to:-Head of Admissions, University of Central Lancashire, Preston, PR1 2HE, or e-mail uadmissions@uclan.ac.uk

Disclaimer

The University reserves the right to make reasonable changes to these Terms and Conditions where in the opinion of the University this will assist in the proper delivery of education. Changes are usually made for one or more of the following reasons:

- a) To review and update the Regulations to ensure they are fit for purpose;
- b) To reflect changes in the external environment, including legal or regulatory changes, changes to funding or financial arrangements or changes to government policy, requirements or guidance;
- c) To incorporate sector guidance or best practice;
- d) To incorporate feedback from students; and/or
- e) To aid clarity or consistency of approach.

Any changes will normally come into effect at the start of the next academic year, although may be introduced during the academic year where the University reasonably considers this to be in the interests of students or where this is required by law or other exceptional circumstances. The University will take all reasonable steps to minimise disruption to students wherever reasonably possible, for example, by giving reasonable notice of changes to these Terms and Conditions before they take effect, or by phasing in the changes, if appropriate.

The updated terms and Conditions will be made available on the University's website and may be publicised by other means so that students are made aware of any changes.
